Wentworth Male Academy.

This institution owes its existence to the munificence of Stephen G. Wentworth. Desiring to do something for male education in Lexington and vicinity, and, at the same time, to erect a monument to the memory of his son, William Wentworth, who fell asleep in the full enjoyment of the Christian's hope, on May 12, 1879, he decided to establish a High School or Academy. For this purpose he purchased the necessary property, and the school, under the present name, was opened in September of 1880. The charter was secured April 18, 1881, since which time expression has been given to the generosity of the founder in liberal donations as the needs of the school have suggested. By this means and through the warm support of the trustees, and the kind sympathy of patrons and friends, the teachers have been able to establish the school in the confidence of the people, and Wentworth Male Academy is now one of the permanent institutions of Lexington.

The social and moral influences of Lexington and its reputation as an educational center are too well known to require special comment. That hundreds of pupils are drawn here from all parts of the state, and from other states to the various schools is sufficient testimony of this fact.

The location is high and healthful, and the rail-road facilities render its approach easy from any direction.

Announcement.

1882-83

The Third year of this School's history has just closed, and it has been one of great encouragement and success.

In point of numbers the enrollment exceeds that of the previous year by more than fifty per cent. Of the eighty pupils enrolled, thirty-five or more were from a distance, some from other counties and some from other states. It has been our desire to center the interests of the people of Lafayette County upon the school before trying to reach into other districts, in order that our facilities might grow and keep pace with our patronage. Very little has, consequently, been done for the purpose of bringing the school into the notice of even the adjacent counties; still we know from letters of inquiry, and applications for catalogues that the School is becoming known throughout a wider region every day. This remarkable growth has surpassed our most ardent expectations, and shows the need of a school of this character in this part of the state.

Two pupils only have gone to college after finishing with us, and we can point with pride to the records they are now making. There has been a steady advance not only in scholarship, but also in discipline. We admit without hesitation that we have had cases of correction and some of the troubles that necessarily attend all school work, but we can congratulate ourselves upon the fact that, in proportion to the number, we have had during the past year far less discouragement in this direction than we had during the first year of the school's history. We, therefore, conclude that not only from a numerical point of view, but, also, with reference to intellectual and moral progress the school has met with gratifying encouragement.

The Military feature has been kept in a subordinate position, as was intended when it was introduced, and it will continue to be used in such a way as to derive from it the needed physical training and whatever disciplinary advantage it may afford, and not in such a way as to induce the pupil to take more interest in it than in the mental and moral parts of his education. This is the order which we believe should be observed in all true education:—1st, Moral; 2d, Mental; 3d, Physical.

In order to stimulate the principle of self-government and at the same time supplement the work of regular elocutionary training, a literary society, together with a library, has been established, over which the boys themselves preside, but all under the supervision of the teachers, one of whom is always present. What has been accomplished by this addition to the school, aided by the instruction of a special teacher of elocution, many and competent witnesses have testified after being present at our last closing exercises.

Many friends will regret to learn that Prof. D. W. Fleet has resigned his position in the School. Having found the confinement of teaching too trying, he has decided to abandon the work. We are glad to state, however, that Prof. Geo. M. Thomas, of Maryland, a distinguished graduate of the Virginia Military Institute, has accepted the position. Prof. Thomas spent four years at a preparatory military school before going to the Institute, where he spent three years more. Since his graduation he has been constantly engaged in teaching. He thus combines seven years' experience as a pupil in military schools, with as many more years' experience as a teacher. He comes highly recommended by the Superintendent and Adjutant of the Institute, as well as by the trustees of institutions in which he has taught.

If it shall be found necessary at the opening of the next session, another teacher will be added to the present force.

The boarding department in which pupils from a distance are kept under the constant supervision of the teachers has proved to be an indispensable feature, and arrangements are now being made for securing a location much more suitable than the present one. The place selected is more convenient to the Academy building, and embraces grounds sufficient for drill and recreation.

With feelings of deepest gratitude to Almighty God for the prosperity of the past and bright outlook for the future, and with a profound sense of the responsibility resting upon us in this great work, we will endeavor to discharge faithfully the obligations we owe to all who may commit to us the education of their sons.

Remarks Upon the Course of Study.

In all departments thoroughness rather than scope will be our aim. We are bringing our course of study within strict academic range and we shall be able thereby to accomplish more perfectly the work gone over.

Our system is essentially the Elective, no pupil being restrained in one department because he has not been proficient in some other. At the same time every endeavor will be made to keep all their studies abreast.

Every parent or guardian upon entering a pupil should let us know as definitely as possible what his desires are in reference to the nature of the education intended for the pupil, how long he is to be kept at school and whether or not he is to be prepared for professional or business life. It is very necessary that we have this information in order to proceed intelligently in their classification.

Examinations.

In addition to frequent reviews and monthly examinations there will be held, at the end of each five months, rigid written examinations on the studies pursued during the term. These examinations not only indicate whether or not the pupil's attainments are such as to justify his promotion in class, but they also necessitate such a course of preparation as will enable him to grasp the subject as a connected whole. We discourage the practice so prevalent, and commonly known as "Cramming," preferring to direct the efforts of the pupil toward a knowledge of the under-lying principles rather than toward the committing to memory of a multitude of disconnected facts.

Reports.

At the end of each five weeks a report of the standing of each pupil, in scholalship, punctuality and deportment will be sent to his parent or guardian.

Discipline.

Good behavior and careful performance of all tasks imposed are expected from all pupils. The rigor of our discipline need not be felt by any one who comes with a well formed determination to make the best use of his time or by any with whom mild measures of correction are sufficient; but any pupil who persists in the violation of our rules will be dealt with according to strict military discipline, and, if this fail to secure the desired end, he will be expelled. Pupils from a distance, who board in the boarding department, will be, at all times, under the control of the teachers. They will be required, always, to be on the premises at night, and to study at least two hours every night, except on Sunday. The greatest care will always be exercised to keep them away from places of temptation.

Prizes.

At least three gold medals will be given at the end of the session for highest grade in different branches of study and in punctuality and deportment. Special announcements in reference to these will be made at the beginning of the session. It is very important for any who expect to compete for any of these to be present at the beginning of the session.

Certificates.

Any pupil who desires it may obtain, by application to the principal, a certificate stating what branches of study he has pursued and the degree of proficiency attained therein during his connection with the Academy.

Boarding.

All pupils living too far from town to be able to come from home every day are required to board at the Boarding House of the School. As the property used for this purpose belongs to the school, boarding can be provided cheaper than it can be obtained anywhere else of the same quality.

As before stated, arrangements are being made for greatly improving our present accommodations, and, when accomplished, this will be rendered a very attractive feature of the school.

This department is under the management of Mrs. Lewis Neale, who is too well known in and about Lexington, for it to be necessary to say anything about her peculiar fitness for the position. Her kind and sympathetic disposition, generous nature and the refinement of her manners render her universally beloved, and her untiring attention to the wants of the pupils cannot be surpassed by that of a mother.

All teachers of the school board here, and through that influence exerted on all pupils by constant intercourse with, and interest in them, as much can be done in the way of their general education as can be done in the class-room through formal instruction.

Military Department.

Believing with Johonnot that a failure to provide for physical culture, or to observe the conditions of physical well-being, will vitiate all educational processes and render abortive all attempts to reach the highest intellectual and moral development, we have introduced, in a subordinate way, the military feature.

This has been done not with a view of training our pupils for military life, but in order to systematize their daily physical exercise, and to provide for each an erect and graceful carriage, manly address and habits of neatness and punctuality.

This department will be conducted by Prof. G. M. Thomas, a graduate of Virginia Military Institute, and the instruction, principally of a practical nature, will be given from Upton's United States Army Infantry Tactics.

The military exercises will take place daily, but they will never be permitted to interfere with other school duties. Only such time will be devoted to the drill as is actually needed for recreation and rest from study.

In response to this need of the school, Mr. S. G. Wentworth sent to New York and purchased a number of Austrian Cadet Muskets and accoutrements, sufficient for the present demand, and fitted up an armory for them, and these are now the property of the academy.

Uniform.

A uniform of cadet gray will be worn by all who attend the school. The uniform selected is the most economical clothing the students can wear.

Arrangements have been made with the clothing house of Philip Keller, Lexington, Mo., for furnishing these suits. Careful measurements will be taken and accurate fits will be guaranteed. These suits wear well, and present a good appearance as long as they last. The cost of the uniform is from $16 to $19, cap $1 50. For very small boys the cloth can be procured and suits made by private contract for something less. When a pupil's connection with the school ceases during the session, he must no longer wear the uniform in public.

Religion.

This Academy, though non-sectarian, is under Christian influence, being controlled by the different evangelical religious denominations of Lexington and vicinity, through a board of trustees required by the charter to be composed of members of these denominations.

It is further required that all teachers of the school be members in good standing of some church.

Devotional exercises will be held every morning before beginning the duties of the day. All boarding pupils will be required to attend the Sabbath school of their parents' selection; also to attend in a body, accompanied by a teacher, the different churches in the city on Sabbath morning and night. Addresses will be delivered to the students from time to time by the pastors of the different churches.

Terms, for Session of Ten Months.

FOR BOARDING PUPILS.

Board, Washing, Tuition and Incidental Fees.....$ 218 00

FOR DAY PUPILS.

Lowest Grade Tuition.....$ 30 00

Intermediate Grade Tuition..... 40 00

Highest Grade Tuition..... 50 00

Incidental Fees..... 3 00

A reduction of one half on tuition will be made to the children of all persons regularly engaged in the ministerial work, also to all candidates for the ministry. Arrangements can be made for assisting a few worthy young men without means who desire an education.

Half the amount is due when school opens; the remainder at the beginning of the second five months. Unless sickness or some cause equally serious necessitate, or unless a special agreement has been made, pupils cannot be withdrawn until the end of the session of ten months. All persons will therefore remember that when a pupil is entered he is entered for the entire session. We have learned from experience that if it is permitted parents will withdraw their children for the most trivial causes, and we cannot afford to employ first class teachers and pay them by the year with such fluctuations as this course on the part of patrons produces.

No deduction will be made for delay in entering unless the delay equal or exceed one month.

Outfit.

Every boarding pupil should have in addition to what every one knows to be necessary, his own toilet articles, table napkins, a pair of sheets, two pillow cases, a bag for soiled clothes, a pair of over shoes and an umbrella. They must mark with indelible ink all articles put in washing.

Special Remarks.

1. Let all read carefully our terms and requirements.
2. Let us be informed fully in regard to the boy's disposition and the character of education intended for him.
3. Co-operate with us in our efforts to prevent extravagance by not instructing business houses here to let your sons run accounts.

Provide for all their necessary wants and furnish some small allowance monthly; we suggest not more than $2.

4. So much time is lost by visits home of boarding pupils that we are compelled to limit them to once in two months.

5. Pupils should enter as near the beginning of the session as possible. It is very discouraging to enter after classes are all formed and have been reciting some time.

6. Let the parents of day pupils co-operate with us in preventing loss of time by non-attendance. This cannot be accomplished by our efforts unless aided and sustained by yours.
